

Another busy week at Chatsworth and the Autumn weather has really kicked in—please make sure their child has a coat every day and that their name is clearly written inside. Lost property is frustrating for everyone, and upsetting for pupils and parents alike! Please also be reminded that Chatsworth is a strictly NUT-FREE SCHOOL. We have some pupils with serious allergies and cannot have foods containing nuts in packed lunches—save the peanut butter for snacks at home please! I look forward to seeing you all at Chats-Fest tomorrow! Fingers crossed for dry weather! Have a lovely weekend, Mrs Kinsley :-)

SAFE

We've had both some concerns and complaints raised by local residents this week—complaints regarding parents parking across residential drive-ways, and concerns regarding some children crossing the road unsupervised. Road Safety Week is coming up soon and we will discuss this with the children. Please be considerate of our neighbours and avoid blocking driveways, thank you.

HAPPY

The Colour Monster introduces children to the ideas of recognising and exploring their feelings. We read it in Reception—can your child tell you when they're feeling red or black? And what they need to do to get back to feeling yellow?

LEARNING

Reception were getting active in their PE lesson this morning, following all the moves as they went on a Bear Hunt. Did they catch one?

Chats-Fest

The PA look forward to welcoming you to Chatsworth for an afternoon of inflatable fun tomorrow from 2-4pm. Tickets are £30 per family and include all entertainment, activities, snacks and drinks. Both Festival tickets and raffle tickets are available by scanning this QR

Harvest Festival

Next Friday 4th October we'll have our Harvest Celebration—please bring any donations of non-perishable foods from Monday onwards, for our display in the hall. All donations will go to Bexley Food Bank, and the children will be learning about their work in assembly next week.
